St. Martin's Horseshoe Cookies

Ingredients:

1 c. butter

4 Tbsp sugar

2 c. sifted all-purpose flour

1 c. ground, unblanched almonds

1 tsp almond extract

Directions: Cream butter and sugar. Add other ingredients and mix. Using fingers, form into horseshoe shapes, about three-four inches long before bending them into shape. Bake at 300 degrees for about a half-hour. Dust with powdered sugar.

St. Martin's Horseshoe Cookies

Ingredients:

1 c. butter

4 Tbsp sugar

2 c. sifted all-purpose flour

1 c. ground, unblanched almonds

1 tsp almond extract

Directions: Cream butter and sugar. Add other ingredients and mix. Using fingers, form into horseshoe shapes, about three-four inches long before bending them into shape. Bake at 300 degrees for about a half-hour. Dust with powdered sugar.

St. Martin's Horseshoe Cookies

Ingredients:

1 c. butter

4 Tbsp sugar

2 c. sifted all-purpose flour

1 c. ground, unblanched almonds

1 tsp almond extract

Directions: Cream butter and sugar. Add other ingredients and mix. Using fingers, form into horseshoe shapes, about three-four inches long before bending them into shape. Bake at 300 degrees for about a half-hour. Dust with powdered sugar.

St. Martin's Horseshoe Cookies

Ingredients:

1 c. butter

4 Tbsp sugar

2 c. sifted all-purpose flour

1 c. ground, unblanched almonds

1 tsp almond extract

Directions: Cream butter and sugar. Add other ingredients and mix. Using fingers, form into horseshoe shapes, about three-four inches long before bending them into shape. Bake at 300 degrees for about a half-hour. Dust with powdered sugar.

Saint Martin of Tours (Feast Day November 11th)

During his time as a soldier in the Roman Army, Martin was stationed in Gaul (modern-day France). One day while riding into the city of Amiens, Martin met a beggar, cold and clothed in tattered rags. Some versions say that it was raining, and others that it was snowing. Regardless, it was cold out, and Martin took pity on the man, cutting his soldier's cloak in half and gave it to the beggar. That night, in a vision, Christ came to Martin and said, "Martin, a catechumen, clothed me with a robe." Thereafter, Martin left the military to dedicate his life to Jesus Christ.

Martin's act of generosity and love is a reminder to us of the need to find Christ in everyone we encounter, and to live out the works of mercy. May these cookies serve as a reminder of his example of holy virtue!

St. Martin of Tours, pray for us!

Saint Martin of Tours (Feast Day November 11th)

During his time as a soldier in the Roman Army, Martin was stationed in Gaul (modern-day France). One day while riding into the city of Amiens, Martin met a beggar, cold and clothed in tattered rags. Some versions say that it was raining, and others that it was snowing. Regardless, it was cold out, and Martin took pity on the man, cutting his soldier's cloak in half and gave it to the beggar. That night, in a vision, Christ came to Martin and said, "Martin, a catechumen, clothed me with a robe." Thereafter, Martin left the military to dedicate his life to Jesus Christ.

Martin's act of generosity and love is a reminder to us of the need to find Christ in everyone we encounter, and to live out the works of mercy. May these cookies serve as a reminder of his example of holy virtue!

St. Martin of Tours, pray for us!

Saint Martin of Tours (Feast Day November 11th)

During his time as a soldier in the Roman Army, Martin was stationed in Gaul (modern-day France). One day while riding into the city of Amiens, Martin met a beggar, cold and clothed in tattered rags. Some versions say that it was raining, and others that it was snowing. Regardless, it was cold out, and Martin took pity on the man, cutting his soldier's cloak in half and gave it to the beggar. That night, in a vision, Christ came to Martin and said, "Martin, a catechumen, clothed me with a robe." Thereafter, Martin left the military to dedicate his life to Jesus Christ.

Martin's act of generosity and love is a reminder to us of the need to find Christ in everyone we encounter, and to live out the works of mercy. May these cookies serve as a reminder of his example of holy virtue!

St. Martin of Tours, pray for us!

Saint Martin of Tours (Feast Day November 11th)

During his time as a soldier in the Roman Army, Martin was stationed in Gaul (modern-day France). One day while riding into the city of Amiens, Martin met a beggar, cold and clothed in tattered rags. Some versions say that it was raining, and others that it was snowing. Regardless, it was cold out, and Martin took pity on the man, cutting his soldier's cloak in half and gave it to the beggar. That night, in a vision, Christ came to Martin and said, "Martin, a catechumen, clothed me with a robe." Thereafter, Martin left the military to dedicate his life to Jesus Christ.

Martin's act of generosity and love is a reminder to us of the need to find Christ in everyone we encounter, and to live out the works of mercy. May these cookies serve as a reminder of his example of holy virtue!

St. Martin of Tours, pray for us!